A high-tech update to the traditional bookmobile, visitors can learn how to borrow digital books, stop at the Gadget Gallery to explore a variety of devices, talk with eReading experts and more. Tours are free and open to the community.

Readers can borrow eBooks and eAudiobooks anytime, anywhere by visiting <http://ccc.overdrive.com>.

“This is an amazing opportunity for our patrons and our staff to get hands on experience with the latest digital platforms and technology,” said County Librarian Melinda Cervantes. “We are excited the Digital Bookmobile chose Pittsburg as one of their stops on the tour.”

The 42-foot long Toterhome, fresh off the assembly line, is equipped with broadband Internet-connected PCs, free Wi-Fi connection, touchscreen monitors, premium sound systems, and a variety of portable media players, all of which help visitors explore Contra Costa County Library’s digital services. Interactive learning stations encourage visitors to search the library’s digital media collection and go through the borrowing process. Beginners can get a one-on-one tutorial from technical experts. No matter what phone, tablet or computer a reader has, they’ll be reading eBooks and listening to eAudiobooks in no time flat.

Library readers can take advantage of the featured services to borrow eBooks and eAudiobooks for free, 24/7 with no late fees at ccclib.org or use the OverDrive app to read or listen.
