Who is Eligible for the Scholarship Program?

The National Coalition of 100 Black Women, Inc., Oakland/Bay Area Chapter (OBAC) Young Black Women Scholars Program offers scholarships to women students in Bay Area schools who are bound for a four-year university, JC / community college or trade school. The program also accepts applications from undergraduate and graduate students who have attended high school in the Bay Area.

How Do Students Qualify?

To qualify for a scholarship, a student must be a senior enrolled in a Bay Area school for a minimum of the last two years of high school or admitted and are currently enrolled in a trade school, junior college or a university. High school students must have earned a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.5 during grades 10 through 12; and demonstrate promise of continued academic achievement. Students must have earned a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.5 during their school tenure. All candidates must also document a need for scholarship assistance.

The school listed in your application must be the school you are currently attending or planning to attend at the time you seek payment of your award. NCBW reserves the right to rescind an award if the school, or any information provided for payment differs from information provided in the application.

Awardee must agree to periodically provide education and career updates to NCBW as requested.

Applicants who have been awarded NCBW-OBAC scholarships in the last year are not eligible, except for those who participated in the past or present Positive Step Program.

Students should submit a signed, completed application with all the required documentations and include with your application. (Do not mail any documents separately).
